

Free Access to All TC3 Curriculum

TC3 offers 170 web-based training (WBT) courses with a commitment to develop 25 or more additional hours annually. These WBTs make up a comprehensive curriculum developed in accordance with the TC3 matrices. TC3 courses are national-level training targeting the frontline technical workforce in the areas of construction, maintenance, and materials. Employees can access training 24/7 at store.transportation.org, start and stop sessions to fit their schedules, as well as print personalized certificates and see transcripts of completed courses. Over 90% of TC3's courses are recommended for professional development hours (PDHs).

Participation in State Sharing Program

TC3's State Sharing Program provides the published TC3 trainings for internal state DOT learning management systems (LMSs) to ensure improved access to the curriculum for DOT employees.

State Representation on TC3 Council

Representation on the TC3 Council can provide an opportunity for your state to help shape the national landscape for transportation technical workforce training. DOT volunteers have an opportunity to support six working committees structured to help accomplish the Council's mission.

Influence in Curriculum Expansion

TC3 develops approximately 25 hours of new web-based training each year in addition to updating existing courses as needed. Representation on the TC3 Council allows your DOT to participate in the selection and prioritization of courses that are developed and updated.

Free Travel Sponsorship to TC3 Annual Meeting

Contributing DOTs are provided with one free travel sponsorship for attendance at TC3's annual meeting. Sponsorship covers all travel costs and registration fees for one DOT representative to participate in the meeting.
